Saltaire ARTS TRAIL

A Saltaire
inspired event

Draw Saltaire with Jake Attree
a series of workshops at Saltaire Arts Trail

saltaireinspired.org.uk

“ Over the thirty years I have lived in Saltaire, I have been drawing it from windows of my house, the windows of Salts Mill, on the streets, by the river and the canal. Drawing something, or somewhere, is for me the only way to get to truly know it, both objectively and subjectively.

This series of workshops will see us approach this challenge in three separate ways: using pen and ink and working in an almost miniature format, postcard-size actually; using graphite on a larger scale; and finally, oil pastel, which will introduce colour and is a medium I have used a lot and continue to work in.

Drawing is a wonderful and timeless activity and Saltaire the most beautiful and rewarding of subjects, so do come and join me at one, or perhaps all three drawing days.
